were ordered to return to work by the executive board of district number six, United Mine Workers of America, after a meeting here Thursday.

At the same time, Lee Hall, president of the district was instructed to notify all coal operators that compliance with their contract, which includes provision of the "check-off" system of collection of union dues, is expected and that violation of it will result in strikes.

40,000 READY TO QUIT.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 3.—Forty thousand union miners in the Pittsburgh bituminous coal district will be called out on strike next Monday morning if the executive board of District No. 6 United Mine Workers of America refuse to act on the advice of President Robert R. Gibbons. The strike will be confined to the coal companies which have notified Mr. Gibbons that they will not obey the "check-off" provision in the union call.

Mr. Gibbons' position was outlined in a message sent to president Lewis of the United Mine Workers at Indianapolis late Thursday in which he said:

"I have decided to call a meeting of the district executive board tomorrow, Friday, November 4, at which time I propose to request the board to issue a general strike order to be effective Monday, November 7 at the properties of all coal companies who refuse to comply with section 25 of our district agreement."

SIX ILLINOIS MINES IDLE.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 3.—Six mines in Illinois were idle Thursday as the result of sporadic strikes in protest against Judge Anderson's injunction against the "check-off" system.

These six, according to Walter Nesbit, secretary-treasurer of the Illinois Miners' union, will work again Friday.

The miners he said, had not received the official order to remain at work when they struck.

"There are not as many as 3,000 on strike," Mr. Nesbit said, "and all of them acted individually. President Farrington's message advising them of the harm of their action will result in an entire return tomorrow."

Mines idle because of the strikes are at Kincaid, Staunton, Hillsboro, Carlinville and Bush. Miners at Carlinville who struck Thursday returned to work today.

PROMOTER GETS JAIL TERM AND $1,000 FINE

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 3.—Alpha H. Holaday, of Muncie, charged with using the mails to defraud, was sentenced to four years in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., and fined $1,000 by Judge A. B. Anderson in United States district court here late Thursday.

The jury found Holaday, who offered no defense and called no witnesses in his behalf, guilty in 10 minutes.

Judge Anderson said the scheme was one of the worst he had ever heard of. Postal inspectors said Holaday had amassed a fortune of $200,000 by his scheme. He promised large returns, running as high as 50 and 75 percent a month, to investors who placed their money with him.

Witnesses said Holaday operated in the American oil land association and the Royal Oil properties.

One witness living in Kentucky, said some of the land leased by the Royal Oil properties was on Bunkum creek, in Kentucky.

Harding Asked To Grease Wheels Of Prohibition

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Organizations interested in the enforcement of prohibition sent a petition Thursday to President Harding asking he "demand executive officers and recommend legislative officers to speed up and intensify the agencies of enforcement."

Declaring a recent tour of the northern states had not shown a reaction "among the more than three-fourths of the American people" who had approved prohibition, the petition continued:

"We respectfully suggest that the party in power, having made prohibition enforcement a matter largely of party patronage, will naturally be held responsible for any failure on the executive side of enforcement and also for the tragic delay of pending enforcement legislation in the senate."

"We not with gratification your indignation that prominent members of republican committees have extorted large sums as pay for their influence in getting permits for wholesale supplies for bootleggers."

"We believe a mandate from you that this trifling with the constitution must stop all along the line would quickly enthrone law and order in the whole field of prohibition enforcement."

The petition was signed by Clarence T. Wilson, general secretary, M. E. Board of Temperance, prohibition and public morals; Charles Scanlon, secretary-president board of temperance and moral welfare, and Wilbur F. Crafts, superintendent international reform bureau.

ST. LOUIS HAILS FOCH ONE OF "OLD BOYS"

Louis' welcome. The marshal and his party, which included Hanford MacNider of Mason City, Ia., the new national commander of the American Legion, was scheduled to leave after midnight for Indianapolis, where, Friday, the marshal will be a guest of that city.

Pershing to Nashville.
Gen. Pershing left for Nashville, Tenn., on business.

One of the features of the day was a review of the Sixth Infantry, just completing a 300-mile hike from Camp Jackson, S. C., to Jefferson Barracks, Mo. The regiment reached East St. Louis two days ago, but was held there to be given the opportunity of passing in review before its French and American commanders. The regiment was in command of Col. Hunter B. Nelson. Disabled veterans sat in the reviewing stand and in front, forming a guard of honor, where overseas men wearing French decorations.

It was not until almost noon that the vast majority of St. Louis citizens had opportunity to see the distinguished guests. The breakfast at the St. Louis club functions at St. Louis university and Washington university and the visit to the statue of St. Louis, had kept the party out of the business sections. However, along the entire route there were large assemblages of people, including school children. It was a holiday in the schools.

When the business sections were reached the crowd became immense, practically every available foot of space being occupied. Windows of office buildings displayed a sea of faces. Mounted police picked up the parade as it entered the business section and formed an escort to the Planters hotel, where luncheon was served. The automobile conveying the party were decorated with American flags and the French tri-colors, oak leaves and yellow chrysanthemums.

Eighty-two out of every 100 leaves of broad Englishmen eat are imported.

U. S. PROGRAM IS READY FOR WORLD PARLEY

Definite Outline of Policies for Armament Conference Announced.

powers to present in their turn some concrete counter proposal. All the evidences surrounding the conference of the American big four with their naval advisers have pointed to inclusion of a set of maximum reduction figures in the plan to be laid on the table by this government.

Details Kept Secret.
No official has been willing to reveal any details of these figures, but there has been apparent a desire to lay bare at the very outset of the negotiations, the full extent to which the United States would be willing to go in scaling down the world's naval armament. The impression that such a method may not lead to an immediate agreement has been given color by the apparent intention of some of the other powers to pursue a directly opposite course and enter the conference setting a high figure as the measure of the naval armament they consider requisite to their national safety. Japan already has indicated she would suggest the necessity of maintaining a navy equal to any which might enter her sphere in the far east, a proportion which naval experts say is well in excess of her present power.

Naval Question First.
The naval armaments question is considered certain to be the first to occupy the active attention of the conference, but it is not the expectation of officials here that the live problems of far eastern diplomacy will remain long in the background. As the conference is viewed in prospect, it is believed here that the diplomatic and armament angles of the situation may develop simultaneously, so that instead of having a fixed program of consecutive subjects the delegates will fall into the practice of considering this of that problem as occasion may bring it to the front.

It is conceivable among American officials that some of the far eastern problems may be brought sharply into issue as soon as replies are made to the initial proposal of this government for naval reductions. Naturally the other powers will desire to set forth their reasons for the attitude they take on this proposal and in the consideration of these reasons the conference may swing entirely away from the question of armament for the moment and address itself directly to the causes for armament.

The determination of the American government that these exchanges shall be kept as far as possible from the realm of underground diplomacy was reiterated Thursday in highest administration quarters. Officials say their plans for giving publicity to the proceedings of the conference are so complete as to assure the press the fullest information consistent with public policy and give public opinion ample opportunity to play an intelligent part in the shaping of the decisions of the delegates.

Even Jersey Told To
"Hew To 18th Line"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Enforcement of prohibition was advocated by Sen. Frelinghuysen, republican, New Jersey, in a telegram sent to Mrs. Everett Colby to be read Thursday night at a republican campaign meeting at Newark.

"Even those who may have not favored the 18th amendment originally should now stand for its enforcement because it is the day," said Sen. Frelinghuysen in which was said to be his first statement on the state campaign issues.
